
MF55 NTC

Description

Product features:

- High sensitivity for precise temperature detection with a fast thermal response time
- Excellent stability and long-term reliability for consistent performance
- Strong insulation properties with high resistance accuracy
- Safe and durable design with a compact, lightweight structure, ideal for automated installation

Product applications:

- Computers
- Printers
- Household appliances